MANDOLIN VIRTUOSO SIERRA HULL RETURNS TO THE SHELDON WITH “CHRISTMAS TIME IS HERE”

ST. LOUIS – The Sheldon presents Sierra Hull, “Christmas Time is Here,” Friday, December 7, 2018 at 8 p.m. in the perfect acoustics of the Sheldon Concert Hall. Inspired by bluegrass and roots music, but not defined by it, singer and virtuoso mandolinist Sierra Hull is finding critical and popular acclaim as a unique songwriter of complexity and depth beyond her years. Christmas Time Is Here is a holiday celebration that will feature friends new and old: Ethan Jodziewicz, Eddie Barbash, Justin Moses, Jake Finch and Kai Welch.

Sierra Hull has been recognized from age 11 as a singer, mandolin-player and teen prodigy, astonishing audiences and fellow-musicians alike. She rose to fame when mentor Alison Krauss invited her to play on the Grand Ole Opry stage at a young age. Two years later, Hull signed with Rounder Records, releasing two acclaimed albums. She has played the White House, Carnegie Hall and the Kennedy Center, and became the first bluegrass musician to receive a Presidential Scholarship at the Berklee College of Music.

Now a seasoned touring musician in her mid-20s, Hull has delivered her most inspired, accomplished and mature recorded work to date. Her latest album, Weighted Mind, has been reviewed as a landmark achievement, not just in Sierra Hull’s career, but in the world of folk-pop, bluegrass and acoustic music overall. With instrumentation comprised largely of mandolin, bass and vocals, this is genre-transcending music at its best, with production by Béla Fleck and vocal guests Alison Krauss, Abigail Washburn and Rhiannon Giddens. Weighted Mind received a 2016 Grammy nomination for Best Folk Album.
